

Noëlla

Noëlla

This is a radio fiction with a documentary approach about my great grandmother Noëlla. In 1966 she was found dead in her garden. Until this day the circumstances of her death remain unclear and ever since, she has been a taboo within my family. To hear her side of the story, I travel to the depths of the Underworld. How does one destructive act continue to resonate within a family? Was she able to make the right decisions? And how did her choices affect her relatives?
